Hi,

I found actor Ed Begley, Jr.’s biography on the Web and it says he went to Stella Niagara Cadet School! He was born in 1949 and he may have been in 8th grade when you and my brother attended in 4th grade. His bio says he was born in Los Angeles, California, the son of Allene Jeanne Sanders and Academy Award winner Ed Begley (1901-1970). At the time Ed Jr. was born, Ed Sr. was married to Amanda Huff. Amanda died when Ed Jr. was 7 years old and he thought she was his biological mother. He met Allene when he was 16. His family moved back to California when he was 13.

Stella Niagara Cadet Academy

The Stella Niagara Wikipedia page says this about Stella Niagara:

Stella Niagara Education Park originally operated as the Seminary of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart from 1908-1970. At that time, it was composed of a boarding school for high school girls, as well as a co-educational elementary school. Within the elementary school, the Stella Niagara Cadet School opened in 1935. And, in 1971, a charter was obtained through the New York State Board of Regents for the operation of what is now known as Stella Niagara Education Park.

I found a YouTube video titled, “Stella Niagara Cadet School” that’s had 222 views. Here’s text from the film’s title sequence:

These movies were taken at Stella Niagara Seminary’s Cadet School’s annual spring outdoor “Cadet Review” in 1947, 1948 and 1949 by Mahlon (Mike) Snyder. The boy’s cadet school was grade 1 thru 8. The girl’s Seminary School was grade 1 thru high school. His son Gerald, attended the 6th, 7th and 8th grades and daughter Joan the Seminary School. Gerald played the Coronet in the marching band ad graduated as a second lieutenant in 1949. In the film are Gerald, Joan and Catherine Snyder, their mother. Sister Ann and Cadet Master Louis J. Ormsby are also shown. There is a scene overlooking the Niagara River and a flight scene taken by Mike Snyder from his airplane. Mike Snyder is shown at the end of this clip.

If you want to view the video, go to YouTube.com and search on the title. A relative named Joe Snyder must have digitized the film. It was uploaded to YouTube in November 2015. The shots taken from the plane over Niagara Falls are as steady as modern video taken from drones.

As I was watching the film, I noticed a woman in a striped dress crossing her arms with an arrangement of fingers and wrist that I believe belongs to a Sirian race from Sirius.

In 2012, around the time that teenagers were camping out in movie theaters waiting for installments of Harry Potter films, I noticed a photo of Daniel Radcliffe making a triangle gesture with both of his hands on a movie poster published in South America (for some reason, I could not find the image on U.S. Web sites). I also found photos of Tom Cruise, Warren Buffett (below), Jay-Z (below) and Denzel Washington (below) making a similar gesture with their hands. I started collecting images of famous people who were photographed making hand gestures. As I searched for more images, I noticed several celebrities were photographed with their arms crossed. This is considered negative body language and I thought it was odd. I also found images of Gates McFadden (who plays Dr. Beverly Crusher in Star Trek) and Mel Brooks photographed with their hands crossed on their chest – like the Egyptian pharaohs. Egyptian tourist sites say that the pharaohs were buried with crossed arms in honor of Osiris. Osiris is one of many names that belongs to an alien named Enki who is the biblical Abel. His brother Set killed him and according to the Isis-Osiris “myth,” his wife (Isis – who is also his sister) played a role in making an artificial version of her husband. I believe this story is real and it was Sirian technology that was used to create the second Osiris.

As I continued my search for photos, I decided to show the collection to my mother. One night, I brought the photos up on my computer screen and a couple of facts clicked when I showed her a photo of James Franco. I remembered seeing a December 2012 article about him concerning performance art in Los Angeles about Aleister Crowley. I also remembered seeing a Wikipedia entry titled “Left-Hand Path and Right-Hand Path.” The page contains a lot of vague information but it has a sketch of Eliphas Levi’s “Baphomet” (Crowley’s nickname was Baphomet). I decided to go through all of my photos and look for cross-arm gestures that were identical to James Franco’s (the fingers of his left hand were showing and the other hand was buried up to his wrist in the cross-arm pose). Here are examples of photos that turned up: Bill Gates, William Randolph Hearst, George Bush Sr. and Prince Charles. I called this “Group A” (and later realized that they are Sirians). I’ve collected about 900 photos of famous people. In 2015, I found a left-hand, cross-arm photo of Rosemary Lawley on the Web and her son-in-law, Chris Ross (who married her oldest daughter Mary Elizabeth).

There is a “Group B” – with an opposite cross-arm gesture (fingers of the right hand showing with the opposite hand buried up to the wrist). Today, I believe this group are what are known as “Major Races.” Sirians are geneticists and they created all other alien races as slaves.

I’ve been cataloging pictures at: http://articles.x10.mx/photos.html This page is not up to date, but Warren Buffett, Denzel, Jay-Z and Daniel Radcliffe are on the list that’s alphabetized. Photos on the page link to pages with 5-6 images (I could not do a complete alphabetized catalog).

When I found Rosemary’s photo, I sent her a copy. I also sent Chris Ross a copy of his cross-arm photo. The Lawley’s have several apartments 3 miles from where my mother lives (my mother lives in a development called Bay Colony Club owned by Warren Buffett). I have not seen my aunt and uncle in 28 years (I’ve been in Florida for almost 5 years). When the photos arrived in the mail, they did not call and say, “Why did Mary Jo send us photos?” There was no reaction—which is what I thought might happen.

Ray Lawley

I think my grandfather (Ray Lawley) was Sirian and I also think he was awake. He was in Republican politics and he was close to Nelson Rockefeller. When I was 10 years old, my family (6 Faheys and 2 grandparents) had a private dinner with Nelson at the Statler Hilton. I have Sirian left-hand, cross-arm photos of Nelson and David. One night my mother also mentioned that her parents had five women friends in OES. I said, “Are you referring to the Order of the Evening Star?” She said, “Yes, the female Masons.” According to Wikipedia, Sirius is a star system and the brightest star in the Earth's night sky. From the Southern Hemisphere in early July, Sirius can be seen in both the evening where it sets after the Sun, and in the morning where it rises before the Sun (possibly referring to “twilight's last gleaming” in the Star Spangled Banner).

Rosemary Lawley wearing a light blue jacket. Exopaedia.org, an encyclopaedia of extraterrestrial information, says Sirians are “blue.” The expression “blue bloods” may refer to Sirians.

Nelson Rockefeller, David Rockefeller and Warren Buffett.

Egypt

The OES logo is a downward pointing pentacle. I found an OES mural on the Web that shows the logo on top of the Great Pyramid also known as the Cheops Pyramid. I’ve included the art in this letter with a photo of Aleister Crowley who is considered the world’s most infamous Satanist. Crowley founded the Order of the Silver Star in 1907 (Silver Star refers to Sirius). The Beatles included Aleister Crowley’s photo on the cover of their Sergeant Pepper album. In 1904, Aleister and his wife Rose went to Cairo. Rose was a medium and while they were in Egypt, she channeled a message that led them to Stele 666 at the Cairo Museum. A stele is a wooden or stone slab. The Stele of Ankh-ef-en-Khonsu (also known as the Stele of Revealing) was discovered in 1858 at the mortuary temple of Hatshepsut, a female pharaoh and mother of Thutmose III.

Thutmose III is the pharaoh who commissioned the creation of the obelisk that now stands in Central Park next to New York’s Metropolitan Museum of Art (the obelisk is called Cleopatra’s Needle). Thutmosis III founded the Rosicrucian Order. When the obelisk was installed in February 22, 1881, a parade of 9,000 Freemasons marched up Fifth Avenue. Bronze crabs, from Roman times, are used at the base to provide support for the broken corners of the obelisk. Metal crabs were also used as wedges beneath the obelisk that’s in middle of St Peter’s Square at the Vatican in Rome. When Pope Sixtus V moved the obelisk to St. Peter’s Square in 1586, the crabs were replaced by lions (Sirians are known as the “lion” race—there are many lion statues in the U.S. and Great Britain and lions are frequently used as symbols in royal coats of arms). Sirius is in a constellation called Canis Major, but it’s also part of the zodiac’s Cancer constellation’s second decan. It’s zodiac position is 14°05’ Cancer.

I could be accused of having a psychotic break except I’ve written several books for medical doctors during the time I’ve been researching this subject (a 400+ page book called Accidental Cure for a St. Louis-based M.D. named Dr. Simon Yu and two books for a Boston-based medical doctor named Dr. James Greenblatt).
Cleopatra's Needle obelisk installed in Central Park just west of the Metropolitan Museum of Art on February 22, 1881. In this 3-photo composite, notice the close-up of the crab.

Silicon-Based Life Forms
On April 27, 2017, director Ridley Scott gave an interview for his new film called Alien: Covenant. He told Skynews: “Aliens exist and they will come for us. When you see a big thing in the sky, run for it,” warns the veteran director. “Because they are a lot smarter than we are” http://news.sky.com/story/ridley-scott-aliens-exist-and-they-will-come-for-us-10853502

The alien in the Alien franchise is known as a xenomorph, a silicon-based life form (humans and all life on Earth are carbon-based). I had strange experience in St. Louis in 2008 when I spent the first week of Accidental Cure book project watching Dr. Simon Yu work with patients.

Dr. Yu was in the Army Reserves for 25 years and he had a close friend in the military’s “special forces.” I only knew about the military officer because his case is described in the book (Dr. Yu solved his health problems and we used an anonymous name).

I stayed at a St. Louis hotel and Dr. Yu picked me up in the morning on his way to his clinic. The first morning he picked me up, he had a disturbed look on his face and said he had seen a silicon-based life form. I asked him for details and he said he could not give me any more information. I knew enough biochemistry to know that silicon-based life forms are not supposed to exist.

Silicon is supposed to be inorganic. Sand is made of quartz or, silicon dioxide. Science fiction writers have been creating silicon-based life forms since the nineteenth century. In 1894 H. G. Wells wrote, “One is startled towards fantastic imaginings by such a suggestion: visions of silicon-aluminium organisms.” Other examples include Star Trek’s Horta, Gorignak from Galaxy Quest, silicon-based spider-like lifeforms in Lost in Space and the giant space slug in Star Wars V.

The crystal skull in Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull is real and it’s made of a single piece of quartz. An archaeologist named F.A.Mitchell-Hedges (1882-1959) is the real Indiana Jones who took the skull from the Belize temple of Lubaantun in 1924. Jamie Awe, Ph.D., director of the Institute of Archaeology of Belize, sued the Estates of F.A. Mitchell-Hedges and Anna Mitchell-
Hedges (Mitchell-Hedges’ adopted daughter), William Homann (Mitchell-Hedges’ son-in-law), LucasFilm, Walt Disney Co., and Paramount Pictures, in Federal Court because no permission was given to utilize the Mitchell-Hedges Skull or its likeness in the Indiana Jones film and that both LucasFilm, now Disney, and Paramount continue to profit (http://www.courthousenews.com/2012/12/10/52959.htm).

Untitled Faction Books

The story of Earth’s history is so old and so complicated, I’ve been working on a series of books that explain how the information fits together. The books are available on the Web and I’ve called them Untitled Faction, Part I, II and III. A faction is a format that combines fictional characters with events and locations that are real. Because my mother does not use a computer, I printed the book a few months ago and she lost it! It’s about 400 pages.

Here’s a synopsis…

Part I

New Yorkers Tom and Will and Tom’s parents (Alice and Nick) meet a group of 8 friends in Rome and take a cruise along the Amalfi Coast:

- Lucy - biologist who lives in LA
- Carol - soil scientist from Minnesota
- Alex and Bev - live in Toronto
- Three Italians: Susana, Tito and Pietro (all three live in Rome)

After the cruise, they go to Akrotiri (on the island of Santorini) to see an archaeological site of an ancient Minoan settlement that was destroyed in a volcanic eruption. Unlike Pompeii, no bodies or valuables were found at Akrotiri. The village, which archaeologists believe was abandoned in 1627 B.C., also had advanced indoor plumbing. Indoor plumbing was introduced in large American cities in the mid-nineteenth century. The A&E Channel had a computer animation that explained the plumbing, but it’s been taken off the Web.

Part II

The group tours Turkey and take a cruise in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Part III (not totally complete)

Tom, Will and Tom’s parents have several meetings to discuss a new trip to Egypt. Lucy and Carol visit for 4 days in March 2008.

- Part III

In Part III, the characters have not yet traveled to Europe to meet their friends. There’s an opportunity to add more content (the PDF file will be expanding). For example, a couple of pieces came together while I’m writing this letter. I did not know that Thelema’s Stele of Revealing was found at the temple of Hatshepsut. She was a female pharaoh who was the mother of Thutmose III. I think the names are alternate identities for Isis and her son Thoth.
Nine Member Egyptian Family Called the Ennead

Much of Earth’s history revolves around a nine-member Egyptian family called the Ennead. When you piece together their names (and alternate names), you realize they keep reappearing:

- Atum (father, aka Ra or El)
- Shu (son, air god, aka Enoch, great-grandfather of Noah)
- Tefnut (daughter, water goddess)
- Geb (grandson, aka Methuselah)
- Nut (granddaughter)
- Osiris (great grandson, aka Enki, Ea, Zeus, Biblical Abel & many other names)
- Isis (great granddaughter, aka Sekhmet, Ninhursag & others)
- Set (great grandson, aka Seth, Enlil, and the Biblical Cain)
- Nephthys (great granddaughter)

Anthony Hopkins recently played Methuselah in Darren Aronofsky’s film Noah (2014). Thoth is not in the nine-member list. He’s the son of Isis and Osiris. Thoth is Hermes in Greece and Mercuty in Rome. A statue of Mercury exists over Grand Central Station. There’s also a statue of Mercury riding Pegasus in Paris’ Tuilerie garden. Strangely, J.K. Rowling signed her name on a bust of Hermes in the The Balmoral Hotel in Edinburgh when she finished the Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows book on January 11, 2007. The room number 652 is in the story (that reduces to a 4). The hotel renamed the room the J.K. Rowling Suite.

Four hundred million copies of Harry Potter books were sold. J.K. Rowling is British and she has moved to Edinburgh. The Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn was formed in Edinburgh in the late 19th and early 20th century. Famous members include William Butler Yeats and Aleister Crowley.

The Word Muggle

I’m not a Harry Potter fan and did not see the films. I know enough about the story to know that J.K. Rowling used the word “Muggle” to describe those who are asleep and do not know wizards exist. Due to my research, I have suspected that this word is code for those in Earth’s population who do not know aliens exist.

I found a Harry Potter Wikia that says “Many magical people, particularly pure-bloods, consider their own world superior to that of Muggles. Some consider Muggles little better than animals and hate them.” The Wikia also says there is a Brazilian translation of the Harry Potter series that uses the term ‘trouxa’ for ‘muggle.’ This word literally means ‘fool.’”

About a year ago, I learned about a game called geocaching invented by two young men in 2000. It’s a treasure-hunting game that requires the use of G.P.S gadgets and players seem to dislike Muggles (I believe the group who own G.P.S. handheld gadgets are most likely aliens).

Geocache players bury their “stash” in public places and then post the G.P.S. coordinates on the Web – challenging others to find the stash. There’s also another game called Waymarking that is less involved. Waymarkers with G.P.S. gadgets post the coordinates of interesting landmarks, monuments and other sites.
If you Google the words Geocache, Muggle and photo you’ll find images that contain disparaging remarks about Muggles (I’ve pasted a few into this letter).

There’s even a page on the Cabela’s site that provides an obnoxious anti-Muggle tip:

It’s also best to keep the location on the down low so non-geocachers (often called muggles) don’t mess with the caches and ruin the fun for others.

Zecharia Sitchin

As you can see in my list of Ennead family members, Osiris is the biblical Abel and Set is the biblical Cain. A linguist named Zecharia Sitchin translated cuneiform tablets found in southern Iraq between 1928 and 1976 (approx. 5000 proto-cuneiform tablets were excavated at Uruk by the German Archaeological Institute). Sitchin’s translation refers to “brother killing brother.” I believe the Cain killed Abel story is real and that Set killed Osiris. According to the Isis-Osiris “myth,” Osiris’ sister-wife (pharaohs married their relatives) participated in the creation of a synthetic Osiris who took his place. Very recent content I’ve added to Part III refers to genomic compilers that are used in the new field of synthetic biology.

Nano Assemblers
I believe Sirians used nano assemblers to create monuments such as the Great Pyramid and Sphinx (the Sphinx was supposedly “carved” from one piece of rock). In Part II, the characters in my book go to the Hall of Minerals at the Museum of Natural History in New York and they discuss quartz used in ancient monuments and gothic cathedrals. As I was writing the paragraph about quartz, I realized that it is a crystal that has a lattice that is mathematical. Wikipedia has an entry titled “Self-Assembly of Nano Particles.” The page says self-assembly of nanoparticles is a new area in nanotechnology research.

Sirius Stories
Recently, I learned about a Jesuit named Brother Guy Consolmagno who is the director of the Vatican observatory in Arizona twenty-six miles north of Tucson. Guy is the author of a book called Turn Left at Orion. I Googled the question “What is left of Orion?” and several links to pages about Sirius were returned. I also found a PDF of Brother Guy’s book online. It’s a text book in its 4th edition. Nearly every star in the book is compared to Sirius.

I have two more Sirius stories. Martine Rothblatt founded Sirius satellite radio in 1990 and merged with XM Satellite Radio to become Sirius XM Radio. Martine used to be Martin Rothblatt and she is also the founder of the Teresem Movement (2002) that educates people about nanotechnology used to extend human life. The movement focuses on downloading human consciousness. In 2010, while reading a book called Oracle of the Illuminati, I found author William Henry’s description of a white paper called “Converging Technologies for Improving Human Performance Nanotechnology, Biotechnology, Information technology and Cognitive Science (NBIC),” a NSF/DOC-sponsored report published in June 2002. When I read his description, I wondered if I could find the paper online and I did. NSF is an acronym for National Science Foundation and I believe DOC is an acronym for the Department of Commerce. There’s a section in the white paper titled “Download Yourself Into New Hardware” and another section that describes hive mind, see: http://articles.x10.mx/nbic_report.pdf.

An author named Ray Kurzweil is a computer scientist and advocate of transhumanism that refers to human beings that are transformed and enhanced with technology. There’s a transhumanist magazine called H+ and the editor’s name is R.U. Sirius. His real name is Ken Goffman and he’s written for WIRED, Rolling Stone, Time, and Esquire. In the 1990s, he recruited Timothy Leary to be a contributing editor for a magazine called Mondo 2000 that he co-founded.

Recent News Stories: The Biblical Flood Really Happened
One of the reasons that the characters in Part I go to Akrotiri is its location on the Greek island of Santorini. I found a WIRED magazine article written by a professor of geosciences titled ‘How to Trigger a Volcanic Eruption on Purpose.’ He says the best location is Santorini. His name is Erik Klemetti and he teaches a Petrology and Volcanology class at Denison University in Ohio. Erik says you can get magma in a volcano to erupt explosively with the addition of outside water. If you know the right ratio of water-to-magma it would be self-sustaining until it ran out of water or magma.

There are high-profile sites on the Web that say the biblical flood really happened. An ABC News article published in 2012 says a National Geographic Society explorer named Robert Ballard has found evidence of the flood in the now salty Black Sea. He used a robotic submersible and found evidence of an ancient shoreline and man-made structures off the coast of Turkey. Columbia University geologists William Ryan and Walter Pitman theorize that a great flood occurred from rising water levels at the end of the last Ice Age. They believe the Mediterranean Sea overflowed with a force 200 times greater than that of Niagara Falls, converting the Black Sea from fresh to saltwater. Ballard agrees. He’s found fossils of now-extinct freshwater species dating back some 7,460 to 15,500 years.

Gobekli Tepe Discovery in Southeast Turkey Upset Archaeological Dogma

In Part II, the characters visit the Gobekli Tepe archaeological site in southeast Turkey. In 2011, when I read Charles C. Mann’s National Geographic article about the Gobekli Tepe, I noticed that he said the site was filled in with sand from somewhere else. Even though the site is 2,490 feet above sea level, I wondered if the sand was due to the biblical flood. Mann’s article is titled “The Birth of Religion: The World’s First Temple” and he says it predates Stonehenge by 6,000 years (Mann never mentions God in the article). The site is much more sophisticated than Stonehenge and it challenges existing archaeological theories. Mann writes: “Discovering that hunter-gatherers had constructed Göbekli Tepe was like finding that someone had built a 747 in a basement with an X-Acto knife.”

Japanese archaeologists have found carbon steel in that region of Turkey. There are several metallurgy articles from Japanese scientists. Steel production is advanced because it involved melting iron to a very high temperature. Japanese scientists refer to this an unexplained mystery.

I found other articles and blogs about Gobekli Tepe that refer to Sirius (the Dog Star) and I realized Mann must have been referring to Sirians (they call themselves gods). One of the articles was written by Anne Strieber, Whitley Strieber’s wife who died in 2015. All of the articles suggest that Gobekli Tepe was built to worship Siriu.

In Sitchin’s book called The Lost Book of Enki, Sitchin’s translation has a section (p. 161) that says:

> Now this is the account of how the Anunnaki to abandon Earth decided,
> And how an oath they took Mankind to let in the Deluge perish.
> Igigi (military) who to their spouses and offspring attached are, let them to the highest peaks on Earth escape!

I believe Nazi preoccupation with Aryanism was related to a search for Sirians who escaped to high elevations and survived the flood.

American Eugenics Movement

Edwin Black, author of IBM and the Holocaust says the concept of a white, blond-haired, blue-eyed master Nordic race didn’t originate with Hitler. A British anthropologist named Francis Galton coined the term eugenics and there was an American eugenics movement in the early twentieth century. Black explains that California adopted eugenics laws in 1909. California led the nation with one third of all forced sterilizations. In 1904, the Carnegie Institution established the Station for Experimental Evolution at Cold Spring Harbor on Long Island. It’s still there. Today, it’s the Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory (CSHL).

These are just broad strokes. The rest of the content in my Untitled Faction books is dense. I’ll end here and I’ll be in touch!

Sincerely,
